

NORTHERN TRUST GENDER PAY GAP REPORT

FOREWORD

Fostering and supporting a globally diverse and inclusive workforce is a strength of Northern Trust and is what will help us to succeed. We are an equal opportunity employer and aim for excellence in our efforts to recruit and develop our workforce.

As required by government legislation, Northern Trust and all companies in Great Britain with more than 250 employees, must disclose their gender pay gap annually. We support the widespread publishing of gender pay gaps and are continually looking to make improvements to close our own gender pay gap.

For us, this is about ensuring equal opportunity for all men and women to participate in all areas of work and at all levels of seniority. We support this by the many initiatives and policies embedded in our organisation, such as our flexible working policies, Women in Leadership and Working Families Business Resource Councils and external networks including the London Women's Forum and WeAreTheCity.

Some of these initiatives will impact and address our gender pay gap, for example:

- Running leadership development programmes, such as our Diverse Leaders' Programme, for diverse groups. Our women's programme has been running for six years and is designed to ensure the pipeline of female talent for senior roles remains strong.
- Joining the Women in Finance Charter and setting targets to address gender diversity at Northern Trust. We'll continue to focus on activities that will help us to achieve these targets.
- Including unconscious bias training for hiring managers and recruiters to address potential bias in our recruitment processes and mandating the slate of candidates we consider for senior roles is diverse.

We are pleased to report that our gender pay gaps have reduced in 2020 and are significantly lower than most of our Financial Services' competitors. However we will continue to strive to further reduce the gap.

WHAT IS THE GENDER PAY GAP?

The gender pay gap is often confused with equal pay - but they are not the same. The gender pay gap is the difference in the average hourly pay of all men and all women in an organisation. Equal pay is about ensuring men and women get the same salary for equivalent work (i.e. carrying out the same jobs).

You can have a gender pay gap without having an equal pay problem. This is because gender pay gaps are typically caused by having more men in more senior, and therefore more highly paid, positions. This will mean that men receive a higher average pay than women.

There are a number of legitimate reasons people can receive different pay for doing the same job. For example, skills, previous experience, how long they have been in a role and where in the country they work.

EQUAL PAY IS ABOUT ENSURING MEN AND WOMEN GET THE SAME SALARY FOR EQUIVALENT WORK

OUR GENDER PAY GAP

Pay and Bonus Gap

At Northern Trust our overall gender pay gap (at the snapshot date 5 April 2020) is 14.9% on a mean basis and 12.2% on a median basis (shown in Table 1). All 2020 results show improvement on 2019.

Our gender pay gaps compare favourably to national data (per the Office of National Statistics) of 14.6% (mean) and 15.5% (median). They compare even more favourably to the ONS Financial Services pay gaps of 29.5% (mean) and 33.2% (median).

At Northern Trust, although the number of men and women receiving a bonus is comparable (Exhibit 1), our median bonus gap is 25.3% and our mean bonus gap is 35.6% (Table 1). This suggests that our gender bonus gap is a result of the amount of bonus paid rather than more bonuses being given to men.

TABLE 1

	Mean	Median
Women's Hourly pay is..	14.9% lower	12.2% lower
Women's Bonus pay is..	35.6% lower	25.3% lower

Further detail on bonus pay gap is provided at the bottom of the page.*

EXHIBIT 1: WHO RECEIVED BONUS PAY?

The demographic profile of our organisation is a major reason for our overall gender pay gap and we have been taking action to tackle this at Northern Trust.

Pay Quartiles

At the snapshot date of 5 April 2020 our gender pay gap tells us that there is an over-representation of females in the lowest paid quartiles and an under-representation of females in the upper, higher paid quartiles. This means that there are more men in more senior, and therefore highly paid, positions.

TABLE 2

Pay Quartiles	Lower quartile	Lower middle quartile	Upper middle quartile	Upper Quartile
Men	52.1%	60.6%	63.5%	71.3%
Women	47.9%	39.4%	36.5%	28.7%

*Having obtained guidance on the government regulations regarding variable pay and the determination of the bonus pay gap, we have made the decision to alter our approach to the bonus pay gap calculation. As a result, and in order to be fully transparent, last year's respective figures have been recalculated as follows: 53.5% (mean) and 31.1% (median).

DIVERSITY AT NORTHERN TRUST

Fostering and supporting a globally diverse and inclusive workforce is a strength of Northern Trust. This is supported by the many initiatives and policies embedded in our organisation, such as our flexible working policies, Women in Leadership and Working Families Business Resource Councils and external networks including the London Women’s Forum and WeAreTheCity.

Some of these initiatives will impact and address our gender pay gap, for example:

- Running leadership development programmes, such as our Diverse Leaders’ Programme, for diverse groups. Our women’s programme has been running for six years and is designed to ensure the pipeline of female talent for senior roles remains strong.
- Joining the Women in Finance Charter and setting a target of reaching 35% women in senior management, to address gender diversity at Northern Trust. At the end of 2020, we put a new goal in place, of reaching 38% women in senior management by December 2023.
- Including unconscious bias training for hiring managers and recruiters to address bias in our recruitment processes and mandating the slate of candidates we consider for senior roles is diverse.

Although we have strong Diversity, Equity and Inclusion initiatives, we always want to do better and are committed to ensuring we achieve gender balance at all levels.
